

GOT THE BEST OF IT.

NOT TOWSER THIS TIME, BUT THE WOMAN

In the Contest for Possession of the West End Hotel—The Case Aired in Court Yesterday.

The first case yesterday in the District Court was that of the Territory vs. Prichiano Ruiz, accused of aggravated battery.

It developed from the testimony that one Doughney and his wife Julia had had a falling out and separated. They had a common property in the West End hotel in this city. During the absence of the wife an attachment for $2000 was put upon the property by Prichiano Ruiz, the defendant. This attachment was by the wife claimed to be void, alleging that no consideration had passed, and that Ruiz was merely serving her husband against her interests. She thereupon filed a homestead upon the property. She also took steps toward obtaining possession of the home. This she did by strategy on March 17, and when Ruiz tried to enter they had trouble. It was charged that Ruiz laid violent hands upon Mrs. Doughney and threw her down stairs. On the side of the defense it was stated that they both rolled to the bottom of the flight. Mrs. Doughney, however, managed to hold the fort.

The jury finally reported, late in the evening, that it couldn't possibly agree upon a verdict, and was discharged. The case will be tried again in a few days.

After the retirement of the Ruiz jury the case of Leonardo Garcia, indicted for assault with a deadly weapon came up for trial.

The testimony was that the accused had on May 27 assaulted W. L. Mitchell of the railroad planning mill and had viciously displayed a knife during the progress of the fight. The jury quickly gave a verdict of "guilty as charged." Thursday was set for sentence.

In the action of the Tempe Canal company et al. vs. the Arizona Canal company, attorney for plaintiff moved an injunction against defendant, to restrain him from the appropriation of the waters of the river. Friday was set for the hearing of argument pro and con.

The first case for today is that of the Territory against William Kellogg, charged with grand larceny. This will end the criminal calendar for a short time, the only remaining cases being those of Frank and Tom Cline and W. W. Usery, grand larceny, set for June 24.

The first civil action to come up tomorrow will be that of J. T. Simms vs. J. J. Gardiner.

Court will hereafter convene at 8:30 every morning.
